

Donor Privacy Policy

The University of Tulsa (TU) respects the privacy of all donors. We believe in safeguarding personal information and ensuring that donor privacy is protected.

Personal Donor Data

Donor information is used to complete a transaction, record a contribution, generate the appropriate tax receipt and to acknowledge each gift.

Your name, address and any other personal data you provide will be used by TU to keep you informed of our activities including our programs, special events and funding needs. If at any time you choose not to receive these communications, you may contact us at 918-631-2561 and we will gladly remove your name from our mailing list.

The University of Tulsa publishes a list of donor names in a registry of patrons on our website. Information about specific gifts printed in University publications, other than the registry of patrons, is included only with prior approval from the donor. We respect all donor requests to remain anonymous.

Data Security

Donor information is maintained in a secure database, and only authorized personnel have access to this information for appropriate business purposes.

Donor information is used by TU for charitable purposes as described above and will not be used by any entity outside of the university. The University does not request social security numbers from donors. Credit card numbers entered on TU's online giving form are encrypted and are not sent in clear text at any point in the data's entry or transmission. This information is not stored in any TU database.

Authorized Release of Information

The University of Tulsa does not rent, sell, give away, or trade its donor lists or any information contained on those lists. On rare occasions, The University of Tulsa may be legally required to disclose information. The University of Tulsa complies with all applicable legal requirements and standards.
